

Boston Jewish Resources, compiled by Harvey Sukenic, February 12, 2006

One good website with links for Jewish Boston is the website Jewish Resources in Boston, compiled by Andrew Tannenbaum, at http://www.shamash.org/trb/jewish_boston.html

Included on the site is a map of Jewish Boston, where Andrew is “integrating the entries in this list of Jewish Resources in Boston into a Google Map. I have Brookline Shuls, Restaurants, and Markets in there, it is a work in progress.” [The map was last updated in November 2005]. <http://www.shamash.org/trb/jbmap/>

Other sites with information about Jewish Boston:

Check the community calendar on Shalom Boston for events occurring the week of the convention,

Restaurants and Kosher markets in Brookline are about 2 miles from the Cambridge Hyatt. Many synagogues and Hillels are also about 2 miles from the hotel, in different areas of Boston, Cambridge, Brookline, and Brighton.

The following lists of kosher establishments, bookstores, and synagogues are from Andrew’s website.
